BROOKLYN Union: Dr. TANNER fasted forty days. The Knights Tem-plar at Chicago wilted upon the loss of one breakfast.

ENCOURAGING reports come to us from Wells county. The democracy there are united, are working harmoniously for the success of the party and declare their intention to increase their majority this fall. So note it be.

The speech of Governor BROCK-MEYER at the Circuit Court Room last evening, and elsewhere referred to in these columns to-day, was an able and earnest presentation of the differences between the principles of the Republican and the Democratic parties.

The letter carriers who had their salaries increased by the Democratic Congress are being blacklisted to help elect GARFIELD. If they pay most likely their salaries will be down next winter. Sixteen dollars is McPHERSON's demand from every letter carrier in the United States.

An attempt is being made to give a sensational color to the sudden death of Miss ADELAIDE NELSON because the Paris police put seals upon her cabinet, papers and other property. This is a form of law always gone through with in France in case of death when relatives are absent, and need cause no anxiety to Miss NELSON's friends in this country.

A Detroit Free Press reporter had a brief interview with Senator TRUM-AN last week at the Russell house in that city. The Senator expressed great confidence in HANCOCK's election; and thought Indiana was certain to go Democratic; and was surprised at the enthusiasm and confidence of Illinois Democrats; and of Ohio he said: "We have a good fighting chance to win in the State. The Republicans are doing everything in their power there.
In fact they almost seem desperate, but I believe, and I want to speak calmly and within the bounds, that we shall make Ohio a Democratic State next November."

We have not seen the document, but it is stated that after inspecting Princeton college Drs. JANEWAY and HUNT report that the grounds and buildings are now in good sanitary order, and that parents and generals can send their boys back without fear.
They also report that the fever which broke up the college was not a visitation of God, but an exhalation of improperly constructed and neglected drains and cess-pools. That is to say, several bright young lads lost their lives because the trustees and learned professors to whose care they had been entrusted forgot the plainest and most imperative of their duties.

THE managers of the great railroads are at their wits' end to provide rolling stock enough to move the crops.
From all directions the cry is "send us more cars," and one-half the demand cannot be supplied. This is the case, notwithstanding the fact that forty thousand new cars were built last year, and probably as many more are in course of construction. It is an evidence of the immense railroad business which will be done this year in moving the produce of the teeming West and South, and ought to be a source of consolation to those who are on the bull side of the railroad stock market.
If prices for produce are good—depending largely, of course, on the foreign demand—the agricultural and railroad interests of this country and Canada will be greatly enriched and strengthened, and every other interest in proportion. Reports from all parts now being received in New York indicate that traders generally never were in a better shape financially to take advantage of the good in store for them. It may not be generally known that the number of traders in the United States and Canada requiring credit is nearly 800,000.

Judge Taylor Asked to Explain.

Fort Wayne, August 20, 1880.
HON. ROBT. S. TAYLOR,
Dear Sir:—I feel warranted by your position as candidate of the Republican party for Congress in this district, to ask you for an explanation of your meaning in the use of the term "accused doctrine of state sovereignty," as used by you in your speech at Lagrange on 23d of July in denunciation of what is commonly known as the doctrine of "state rights."

Apart from your reputation for moderation in language, and for exactness of expression and statement, the speech referred to bears on its face the evidence of careful forethought, and deliberate preparation.

It is to be inferred, therefore, that no word or expression in it has been lightly or inconsiderately used. The word "accused," as applied by you to what has been, and still is revered by the probable majority of the voters of the district, has an extremely harsh sound; and coming from one of your reputation for scant use of harsh epithets, is all the more harsh on that account. It becomes the more important, therefore, that the voters of the district should know the full extent and exact sense of your meaning in the use of the word "accused doctrine of state sovereignty."

The Republican party organ in this city also indulges the habitual use of like expressions; this, however, is of trifling consequence, as the expressions of the paper are but the opinions of its proprietors, that may change with successive changes of ownership. At best they are but bunglingly and loosely expressed, and therefore not susceptible of the precise explication and definition so essential in this instance. With you the case is otherwise. You offer yourself, or rather have been offered by your party, as a candidate to represent the people of the District in Congress, and are responsible to them for the opinions you hold and intend to support if elected.

Besides this, you have the capacity to give them clear and exact expression —a rare accomplishment indeed, even among candidates for Congress. From you, if from any Republican in Indiana, may be expected the exact messaging of Republican denunciation of the time honored "doctrine of State Rights."

As this letter is written, and your answer to its question solicited less for my own satisfaction than for that of the people of the District, and either would be of but comparatively little value unless given to the public.
I have felt myself warranted in addressing you through the press instead of the accustomed channels of private correspondence, and shall be gratified by your answering in the same way.

I am, dear sir,
Yours very respectfully,
WM. H. JONES.

PRIZE LIARS.
[N. Y. Tribune, Aug. 15.]
LYING FOR THE JACK-KNIFE.
The contest for the liar's jack-knife goes on bravely. . . . The competition is close. At present no man can tell who will take the knife.

Seven years ago the Republican press of the United States, with scarcely an exception, upon evidence taken and report made by a Republican committee of a Republican House of a Republican Congress, condemned JAMES A. GARFIELD as a bribe taker and a liar who ought either to be formally censured or ignominiously expelled by resolution of that House of which he was a member. From a score of the leading journals of that press we have repeatedly, the last time yesterday, published the evidence of the fact out of their own editorial columns. The sworn evidence taken, and the sworn report made, stand to day precisely the same, without the dotting of an i or the crossing of a t, as they stood seven years ago when the Republican press of the country made up its judgment and passed its strictures upon the conduct of JAMES A. GARFIELD and his implicated associates. Yet, now, without a single change in the situation so far as the guilt of JAMES A. GARFIELD and his implicated associates is concerned, this same Republican press, with scarcely an exception, tells the people and inlets upon it that JAMES A. GARFIELD is a man of the strictest truth and most sterling integrity, and worthy to be elected to the chief magistracy of the American people—to the highest civil position the world has ever known!

Let us gather up the ends from all this snarl of testimony and see, if possible, just where we stand. Read the evidence. With varying degrees of guilty knowledge, every man of them, with one exception (Mr.
BLAINE), has been obliged to confess that at some time he had held this stock, and at some time—under stress of conscience, let us hope, though that is not fully proven—got rid of it. Now let us go slowly over the list: JAMES A. GARFIELD of Ohio had ten shares; received $320, which after the inventigation began he was anxious to have considered as a loan from OAKES AXES to himself. These men betrayed the trusts of the people, deceived their constituents, and by their evasions and falsehoods confessed the transactions to be disgraceful. Pass no resolution. Drop it where it lies. Remand the whole business to the people.

Now New York Tribune, Feb. 26, 1873.
Mr. AXES establishes very clearly the point that he was not alone in this offense. If he is to be expelled for betraying the men who were bribed should go with him.

And read the New York Tribune now. And say whether, in "the contest for the liar's jack-knife," the New York Tribune or some other one of the Republican journals ought to "take it!" Certainly, if the Republican newspapers told the truth of GARFIELD seven years ago, they are undoubtedly liars now; and if they tell the truth now, they were not unmitigated liars then but the basest of slanderers! The readers can hang these prize Republican newspaper liars upon whichever horn of their dilemma the bent of his mercilessness leads him to choose.

TUTTLE TAUGHT.

Not to Trust the Treacherous Tricks of a Traveling Trickster.

[From the Huntington Democrat.]

On Thursday last a gentleman named Tuttle, who resides south of the city in Lancaster township, was the victim of a confidence game which cost him several hundred dollars, and one which was very boldly played.
This fact as we learned them are about as follows: On that day he was approached by a man who spoke to him as if he were an old acquaintance, and when Tuttle told him he could not recognize him, he said his name was Studabaker, and that he was the son of John Studabaker of Bluffton.
They conversed together a few moments, when "Studabaker" told Mr.
Tuttle that there were parties at the Exchange hotel, who were interested in some lottery, which company was giving prizes of one thousand dollars in every county, and that if he (Tuttle) would put in eight hundred dollars he would put in enough to make the thousand dollars and they would go in and divide the profits. Tuttle told the fellow he had not so much money with him, but that he had a farm fully worth that amount, and was told that would not do. He then said he would borrow that amount, and did actually procure the same at the Citizens' bank. "Studabaker" remained in his company until the loan was contracted when the two entered a room at the Exchange hotel, where a third party appeared upon the scene, and upon a table in front of this person was a number of cards. Mr.

Tuttle was then told that if he could there turn a card upon which was a lucky number, he would become the possessor of a prize, whereupon he refused to have no more to do with the matter, saying that he would have nothing to do if he had to play for the same. The tool, "Studabaker," also declared that he wanted to enter no game, and the two then turned and left the room, walking down the old Ft. Wayne road toward the show ground. Meanwhile Mr. Tuttle found that by some means his money had gone and he was warned by "Studabaker" not to say anything, as he would regret to have the word get to his home, and he would at once return to Bluffton and send him the amount of his loss. He then left him saying he "must take his wife to the show," but he would fix the matter all right upon his return home. Tuttle placed implicit confidence in the promise, and even went to the express office the day following for the money, but of course no package came.

The officers soon learned of the game that had been played, and on Friday City Marshal Brandt and Sheriff Kintz, accompanied by Mr.
Tuttle, went to Fort Wayne to recover if possible, the money, or obtain some further clue in regard to the transaction. Arriving there "Studabaker" was soon found and placed under arrest, and was at once recognized by Mr. Tuttle as being the person with whom he was in company the day previous, and for a while it looked as if the Sheriff would have another man in his keeping, but inasmuch as nothing could be proven against him nor any trace of the money found he was discharged from custody, and Mr. Tuttle is still out his money.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

fund has increased from $2,500,000 to $3,500,000.

Judge Black is yet in Paris, but longs to get to his own green land.
He will probably return next month.

Judge Key, after the arrival of Mr.
Maynard, will return to his mountain home for a few weeks' recreation, and will hold his first term of Court at Knoxville in September.

Daniel Dougherty, on his arrival at the White Sulphur Springs on Friday last, was tendered a reception by the guests. He was wine, dined and danced as the man who nominated the next President.

Kit Carson, son of the famous scout, says that he and Henry M.
Stanley, of African renown, once clipped sheep at two cents a head in New Mexico, and worked with a team near Ogden, Utah, for sixteen dollars per month.

William B. Forrest, of Boston, the contestant of Edwin Forrest's will, is a second cousin of the actor, and is in the commission business. He is a native of Nova Scotia, and was naturalized before his cousin's death.

In one of the Rondout (N. Y.) churches, on a recent Sunday, the supply, a minister from New York, after listening to the fine singing of an anthem, said: "Now that the choir have had their fun, we will commence the worship of God by singing the 911th hymn."

An enthusiastic lady tourist was expressing to King Humbert, of Italy, her admiration of "those magnificent ruins and the poetical appearance of the Campagna." Humbert replied:
"I wish I could see all those poetical places covered with fields of grain."

The Prussian government, it is said, are seriously thinking of abolishing civil marriages. They profess to be shocked at the wide and rapid spread of irreligions and rationalism, and consider that some step like that contemplated is necessary to recall this people to a sense of their religious duties.

Jenny Lind's home is a spacious and delightful mansion in a retired bank of South Kensington, embow-led in trees and flowers. The great singer is described as having all the "eyes soft blue eyes, and as showing but a few threads of silver in the abundant brown hair, yet worn turned under as she used to wear it.

For a year after her marriage Medame Goldschmidt lived in the town of Northampton in Massachusetts, and many of the residents there still remember the delight the gracious singer gave them in the prodigal generosity of her great gift of song.

Rain in all styles served on short notice.
J. H. Bass returned from St. Louis yesterday.
The Medical College will open in a short time.
Robert Stratton is wrestling with the shakes.
Several prisoners were released from the jail to-day.
E. L. Cuthrell left last night for Kansas City, Mo.
A school teacher named Price has the officers on his track.
The funeral of J. M. Kinsman took place yesterday afternoon.
The Quaker camp-meeting at the fair ground is poorly patronized.
Hail stone lemons was the favorite beverage yesterday afternoon.
The roof of the Muncie roadhouse was lifted by the storm yesterday.
Copin, the newspaper fraud, roped in Williams, of the Warsaw Indianian.
The storm did serious damage to the front of Ellsworth & Co.'s store.
The Commissioners will probably not meet in special session next Tuesday.
The liver pad men were net out last evening owing to the heavy fall of dew.
Ben Eaton left for Chicago last evening; from thence he will go to Kansas City.
Judge Bobo, of Decatur, was in the city yesterday, shaking hands with his many friends.
Several trains on the Grand Rapids road were late yesterday evening owing to bad connections.
The glue club did not sing at the Circuit Court room last evening owing to the short time it has had for proper rehearsal.
The party announced to be held at Mrs. Bayless' last night was postponed on account of the rain. It will take place this (Friday) evening.
Charles D. Purter, who formerly resided in this city and was well and favorably known, is lying at the point of death at Hot Springs, Arkansas, from Bright's disease of the kidneys.
The following firms have begun suit against the city to recover damages done them by the Clinton street sewer break: Evans, McDonald & Co., Prescott Bros. & Co., Owen Pirkley & Co., Jefferson Iron Works and J. W. Cook & Co.
A horse attached to a buggy containing two holostorous young men was driven at a furious pace down Calhoun street last night during the rain. At the corner of Jefferson and Calhoun streets their buggy collided with a farmer's wagon and a wheel wrenched from the former.
Gideon Smith, the well known proprietor of the Tremont House, died last night at 8 o'clock, after a protracted illness. Mr. Smith during his life was an enterprising, energetic citizen, and by his death business circles in this city are shorn of one of their most active members. The time of the funeral has not yet been decided upon.
Senator Jones, of Florida, and Senator McDonald, of this State, will speak in this city soon, but the exact date is not at present known. Senator Jones was Chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Buildings, which reported favorably upon the erection of a government building in this city and he should be cordially received by our citizens.

THE CITY.

Ready for an Emergency.
About 9 o'clock last evening a bright light was observed to shoot athwart the heavens and apparently caused by a fire in the southwestern portion of the city. With their characteristic vigilance the members of the fire department at once hooked their horses to the steamers and made everything in readiness in anticipation of their services being called into requisition, yet fortunately no alarm was sent in. The light was evidently caused by the burning of property of some description, although the fire was subsequently thought to have been beyond the city limits. Fort Wayne has one of the most vigilant fire departments in the country.

THE CITY.

Despite the drenching rain and the terrific warring of the elements generally, a little band of faithful and patriotic Democrats promptly appeared at the circuit court room at eight o'clock last evening to listen to the issues of the hour as they were to be presented by Governor Brockmeyer, of Missouri, who has been spending several days in our midst. Those who braved the evening storm were amply repaid therefor for Mr. Brockmeyer made a ringing and eloquent speech—an effort that was most favorably received by all his auditors and was frequently applauded to the echo. The speaker was introduced by Hon. J. D. Sarnighausen a few remarks in both English and German to the effect that the distinguished gentleman would discuss the issues and questions of the present political contest. Mr. Brockmeyer at once took as the basis for his remarks the difference between the principles of the Democratic and the Republican parties and proceeded at length to maintain the position that the Democratic party from the dawn of progress to the present hour was the party of the people, by the people and for the people in an argument of marked solidity, founded exclusively on facts and apparently impregnable against successful assault, let the assault come from whatever quarter it might. The nefarious practices of the Republican party from the day of its birth to the present hour, the venality, corruption and debauchery which have ever followed in its wake, the infamous stamp act of which it was the creator, the unwholly packing of the supreme court of the United States for bold and bad partisan purposes in direct violation of the spirit and letter of the organic law of the land, and the greatest of all crimes in the history of American politics—the deliberate theft of the Presidency and Vice-Presidency—were vividly and forcibly portrayed in all their ghastly hideousness and with a sacred regard for the truth of history. The speaker grew grandly eloquent when he said that for a party which went on from bad to worse, deliberately defying both Almighty God and man, there was a terrible reckoning in store; the vengeance of an outraged God was sure to come sooner or later. In General Garfield, said the speaker, the Republican party had a candidate for the Presidency who is a typical representative of all its purposes and practices. As a member of Congress Garfield was ever to be found at his post voting and laboring for the promotion of every infamous measure proposed by his party. As counsel in the matter of the impeachment of the patriotic Andrew Johnson, as a "visiting statesman" to Louisiana to manipulate the vote of that State and to thwart the voice of the people as expressed by their ballots, and subsequently as a member of the infamous majority of the electoral commission he did the bidding of his party managers and obeyed their dictum apparently without the least scruple of conscience. Mr. Brockmeyer closed his able address with a brilliant peroration which was remarkable both for the elegance of its language and the eloquent earnestness of the speaker. It had special reference to the military record of General Hancock and his unquestioned abilities as a statesman which were clearly demonstrated by the wise, humane and patriotic policy he pursued when at the close of the war he sheathed his trusted blade and was made the acting Governor of the State of Louisiana. Every mention of General Hancock's name was the signal for great applause. For over an hour the speaker held the closest attention, and at the conclusion of his remarks all present felt that it was good for them to be there.

THE CITY.

Mr. Brockmeyer was followed by Hon. John D. Sarnighausen who addressed the assembly in German. The SENTINEL's representative was unable to understand the tenor of the gentleman's remarks, yet from the manner in which they were received, the unbounded enthusiasm they created and the hearty applause which they called forth, we were forced to the conclusion that Mr. Sarnighausen was saying something that was decidedly good and pertinent to the occasion, and we felt regret that we had not been born a German.

FOREPAUGH.

Read what the Chicago papers proclaim of the great Forepaugh show, to be in Fort Wayne, Monday, Aug. 28:
From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.
The highest compliment we can pay to Forepaugh's great show, is to say its advertisements are too modest—they do not half describe its magnitude and merit—when we consider the exaggerative style of advertising adopted by traveling exhibitions, what higher compliment can be bestowed upon Manager Forepaugh and his great aggregation. We cheerfully commend it to the patronage of our readers.
From the Chicago Times.
There is no rival to the present great show traveling under the able administration of the veteran, Adam Forepaugh. The managerie is of unusual extent and excellence. The museum and circus departments are faultless, past criticism; not a coarse jest nor a discourteous act was apparent throughout the entire performance, and it can safely be visited by respectable people.
From the Chicago Tribune.
Without question, Adam Forepaugh's Great Show is the finest and largest in the world.

FINE FURNITURE.

A Business House That Does a Tremendous Trade.
Among the many prosperous and enterprising business houses of Fort Wayne that stand deservedly high in the estimation of the people is the fine furniture emporium at Nos. 33 and 35 Clinton street, under the management of Mr. F. Miegner. This morning we took a stroll through the establishment and were surprised to note the large, varied and elegant stock of furniture that is housed therein. There were to be seen an endless variety of rich parlor suits which range in price from $44 to $150; easy and comfortable chairs of every description, rockers of the most approved style and pattern, durable lounges most tastefully finished together with improved bed lounges that must be carefully scrutinized to be fully appreciated. In addition Miegner has a full line of every description of furniture that it is not necessary to call special attention to in this connection. He is a liberal merchant and his aim is to transact business as to make it to the interest of all classes to purchase at his establishment. His trade is not confined to Indiana alone as he is constantly shipping furniture by the car load to several of the States of the Union. We were shown orders that had been received from Pittsburgh and other eastern cities that were simply immense in their proportions, and as these orders so quickly follow each other it is safe to assume that the furniture sold by this house gives the utmost satisfaction to all purchasers. It is a first-class establishment and persons in need of furniture can visit Miegner's store confident in the belief that they will be liberally and fairly dealt with. Remember the place, 33 and 35 Clinton street.

fasted forty days. The Knights Templar at Chicago wilted upon the loss of one breakfast.

ENCOURAGING reports come to us from Wells county. The democracy there are united, are working harmoniously for the success of the party and declare their intention to increase their majority this fall. So mote it be.

THE speech of Governor BROCKMEYER at the Circuit Court Room last evening, and elsewhere referred to in these columns to-day, was an able and earnest presentation of the differences between the principles of the Republican and the Democratic parties.

THE letter carriers who had their salaries increased by the Democratic Congress are being blackmailed to help elect GARFIELD. If they pay most likely their salaries will be scaled down next winter. Sixteen dollars is McPHERSON's demand from every letter carrier in the United States.

AN attempt is being made to give a sensational color to the sudden death of Miss ADELAIDE NEILSON because the Paris police put seals upon her cabinet, papers and other property. This is a form of law always gone through with in France in case of death when relatives are absent, and need cause no anxiety to Miss NEILSON's friends in this country.

A Detroit Free Press reporter had a brief interview with Senator THURMAN last week at the Russell house in that city. The Senator expressed great confidence in HANCOCK's election, and thought Indiana was certain to go Democratic; and of Ohio he said: "We have a good fighting chance to win in the State. The Republicans are doing everything in their power there. In fact they almost seem desperate, but I believe, and I want to speak calmly and within the bounds, that we shall make Ohio a Democratic State next November."

WE have not seen the document, but it is stated that after inspecting Princeton college Dr. JANEWAY and HUNT report that the grounds and buildings are now in good sanitary order, and that parents and guardians can send their boys back without fear. They also report that the fever which broke out the college was not a visitation of God, but an exhalation of improperly constructed and neglected drains and cess-pools. That is to say, several bright young lads lost their lives because the trustees and learned professors to whose care they had been intrusted forgot the plainest and most imperative of their duties.

THE managers of the great railroads are at their wits' end to provide rolling stock enough to move the crops. From all directions the cry is "send us more cars," and one-half the demand cannot be supplied. This is the case, notwithstanding the fact that forty thousand new cars were built last year, and probably as many more are in course of construction. It is an evidence of the immense railroad business which will be done this year in moving the produce of the teeming West and South, and ought to be a source of consolation to those who are on the bull side of the railroad stock market. If prices for produce are good—depending largely, of course, on the foreign demand—the agricultural and railroad interests of this country and Canada will be greatly enriched and strengthened, and every other interest in proportion. Reports from all parts now being received in New York indicate that traders generally never were in a better shape financially to take advantage of the good in store for them. It may not be generally known that the number of traders in the United States and Canada requiring credit is nearly 800,000.

Judge Taylor Asked to Explain.

Fort Wayne, August 20, 1880.

HON. ROBT. S. TAYLOR,

Dear Sir:—I feel warranted by your position as candidate of the Republican party for Congress in this district, to ask you for an explanation of your meaning in the use of the term "accused doctrine of state sovereignty," as used by you in your speech at Lagrange on 23d of July in denunciation of what is commonly known as the doctrine of "state rights."

Apart from your reputation for moderation in language, and for exactness of expression and statement, the speech referred to bears on its face the evidence of careful forethought, and deliberate preparation. It is to be inferred, therefore, that no word or expression in it has been lightly or inconsiderately used. The word "accused," as applied by you to what has been, and still is revered by the probable majority of the voters of the district, has an extremely harsh sound; and coming from one of your reputation for scant use of harsh epithets, is all the more harsh on that account. It becomes the more important, therefore, that the voters of the district should know the full extent and exact sense of your meaning in the use of the word "accused doctrine of state sovereignty."

The Republican party organ in this city also indulges the habitual use of like expressions; this, however, is of trifling consequence, as the expressions of the paper are but the opinions of its proprietors, that may change with successive changes of ownership. At best they are but bunglingly and loosely expressed, and therefore not susceptible of the precise explication and definition so essential in this instance. With you the case is otherwise. You offer yourself, or rather have been offered by your party, as a candidate to represent the people of the District in Congress, and are responsible to them for the opinions you hold and intend to support if elected. Besides this, you have the capacity to give them clear and exact expression—a rare accomplishment indeed, even among candidates for Congress. From you, if from any Republican in Indiana, may be expected the exact meaning of Republican denunciation of the time honored "doctrine of State Rights."

As this letter is written, and your answer to its question solicited less for my own satisfaction than for that of the people of the District, and either would be of but comparatively little value unless given to the public, I have felt myself warranted in addressing you through the press instead of the accustomed channels of private correspondence, and shall be gratified by your answering in the same way. I am, dear sir,

Yours very respectfully,

WM. H. JONES.

PRIZE LIARS.

(N. Y. Tribune, Aug. 16.)

LYING FOR THE JACK-KNIFE. The contest for the liar's jack-knife goes on bravely. . . . The competition is close. At present no man can tell who will take the knife.

Seven years ago the Republican press of the United States, with scarcely an exception, upon evidence taken and reported made by a Republican committee of a Republican House of a Republican Congress, condemned JAMES A. GARFIELD as a bribe taker and a liar who ought either to be formally censured or ignominiously expelled by resolution of that House of which he was a member. From a score of the leading journals of that press we have repeatedly, the last time yesterday, published the evidence of the fact out of their own editorial columns. The sworn evidence taken, and the sworn report made, stand to day precisely the same, without the dotting of an i or the crossing of a t, as they stood seven years ago when the Republican press of the country made up its judgment and passed its strictures upon the conduct of JAMES A. GARFIELD and his implicated associates. Yet, now, without a single change in the situation so far as the guilt of JAMES A. GARFIELD and his implicated associates is concerned, this same Republican press, with scarcely an exception, tells the people and insists upon it that JAMES A. GARFIELD is a man of the strictest truth and most sterling integrity, and worthy to be elected to the chief magistracy of the American people—to the highest civil position the world has ever known! Read the New York Tribune then: New York Tribune, Feb. 19, 1873.

Let us gather up the ends from all this snarl of testimony and see, if possible, just where we stand. Read the evidence. With varying degrees of guilty knowledge, every man of them, with one exception (Mr. BLAINE), has been obliged to confess that at some time he had held this stock, and at some time—under stress of conscience, let us hope, though that is not fully proven—got rid of it. Now let us go slowly over the list: JAMES A. GARFIELD of Ohio had ten shares; he never paid a dollar; received $329, which after the investigation began he was anxious to have considered as a loan from OAKES AMES to himself. These men betrayed the trusts of the people, deceived their constituents, and by their evasions and falsehoods confessed the transactions to be disgraceful. Pass no resolution. Drop it where it is. Remand the whole business to the people.

New York Tribune, Feb. 23, 1873. Mr. AMES establishes very clearly the point that he was not alone in this offense. If he is to be expelled for bribery the men who were bribed should go with him.

And read the New York Tribune now. And say whether, in "the contest for the liar's jack-knife," the New York Tribune or some other one of the Republican journals ought to "take it!" Certainly, if the Republican newspapers told the truth of GARFIELD seven years ago, they are unmitigated liars now; and if they tell the truth now, they were not only unmitigated liars then but the basest of slanderers! The readers can hang these prize Republican newspaper liars upon whichever horn of their dilemma the bent of his mercilessness leads him to choose.

TUTTLE TAUGHT.

Not to Trust the Treacherous Tricks of a Traveling Trickster.

[From the Huntington Democrat.]

On Thursday last a gentleman named Tuttle, who resides south of the city in Lancaster township, was the victim of a confidence game which cost him several hundred dollars, and one which was very boldly played. The facts as we learned them are about as follows: On that day he was approached by a man who spoke to him as if he were an old acquaintance, and when Tuttle told him he could not recognize him, he said his name was Studabaker, and that he was the son of John Studabaker of Bluffton. They conversed together a few moments, when "Studabaker" told Mr. Tuttle that there were parties at the Exchange hotel, who were interested in some lottery, which company was giving prizes of one thousand dollars in every county, and that if he (Tuttle) would put in eight hundred dollars he would put in enough to make the thousand dollars and they would go in and divide the profits. Tuttle told the fellow he had not so much money with him, but that he had a farm fully worth that amount, and was told that would not do. He then said he would borrow that amount, and did actually procure the same at the Citizens' bank. "Studabaker" remained in his company until the loan was contracted when the two entered a room at the Exchange hotel, where a third party appeared upon the scene, and upon a table in front of this person was a number of cards. Mr. Tuttle was then told that if he could there turn a card upon which was a lucky number, he would become the possessor of a prize, whereupon he refused to have no more to do with the matter, saying that he would have nothing to do if he had to play for the same. The tool, "Studabaker," also declared that he wanted to enter no game, and the two then turned and left the room, walking down the old Ft. Wayne road toward the show ground. Meanwhile Mr. Tuttle found that by some means his money had gone and he was warned by "Studabaker" not to say anything, as he would regret to have the word get to his home, and he would at once return to Bluffton and send him the amount of his loss. He then left him saying he "must take his wife to the show," but he would fix the matter all right upon his return home. Tuttle placed implicit confidence in the promise, and even went to the express office the day following for the money, but of course no package came.

The officers, soon learned of the game that had been played, and on Friday City Marshal Brandt and Sheriff Kintz, accompanied by Mr. Tuttle, went to Fort Wayne to recover if possible, the money, or obtain some further clue in regard to the transaction. Arriving there "Studabaker" was soon found and placed under arrest, and was at once recognized by Mr. Tuttle as being the person with whom he was in company the day previous, and for a while it looked as if the Sheriff would have another man in his keeping, but inasmuch as nothing could be proven against him nor any trace of the money found he was discharged from custody, and Mr. Tuttle is still out his money.

THE speech of Governor BROCKMEYER at the Circuit Court Room last evening, and elsewhere referred to in these columns to-day, was an able and earnest presentation of the differences between the principles of the Republican and the Democratic parties.

THE letter carriers who had their salaries increased by the Democratic Congress are being blackmailed to help elect GARFIELD. If they pay most likely their salaries will be scaled down next winter. Sixteen dollars is McPHERSON's demand from every letter carrier in the United States.

AN attempt is being made to give a sensational color to the sudden death of Miss ADELAIDE NEILSON because the Paris police put seals upon her cabinet, papers and other property. This is a form of law always gone through with in France in case of death when relatives are absent, and need cause no anxiety to Miss NEILSON's friends in this country.

A Detroit Free Press reporter had a brief interview with Senator THURMAN last week at the Russell house in that city. The Senator expressed great confidence in HANCOCK's election, and thought Indiana was certain to go Democratic; and of Ohio he said: "We have a good fighting chance to win in the State. The Republicans are doing everything in their power there. In fact they almost seem desperate, but I believe, and I want to speak calmly and within the bounds, that we shall make Ohio a Democratic State next November."

Dr. Harter's FEVER & AGUE SPECIFIC

STANDS TO-DAY WITHOUT A RIVAL IN THE WORLD.

For the cure of all kinds of Ague and Chills it has no equal; having stood the test of universal use for thirty years in the most malarial districts it never fails to cure, not merely removing for a time the symptoms, but eradicating the cause of the disease, thereby making a permanent cure. Price only 75 cts.

Manufactured by The Dr. Harter Medicine Co., No. 213 N. Main Street, St. Louis.

Rev. F. HACKMEYER, Supt. German Protestant Orphans' Home, St. Charles Rock Road, St. Louis Co., writing April 30th, 1877, says: "Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific is a positive cure for Chills and Fever; has never failed with us."

Mr. JNO. C. WELBORN of Keosauqua, Ill., says: "I cured a little girl of Ague of three years' standing with Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific, after the best physicians failed to benefit her."

Dr. YOUNGBLOOD of Little York, Mo., says: "I have used Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific in my practice, and can heartily recommend it to the public."

One of the St. Felix sisters, with Pastor's troupe, died in Boston on the 9th.

The Brothers' school and St. Augustine's Academy will open September 1st.

The rain interfered some with the sport of the Sidonias at Rome City yesterday.

Several barns in the eastern suburb of the city were damaged by lightning yesterday.

Four cases were continued at police court to-day until nine o'clock to-morrow morning.

Miss Flutter, the young lady injured at the laundry yesterday, is able to be around.

Two or three of the "boys" have struck it rich in the produce exchange within the past week.

The report that eastern parties were about to open a chop house in this city is without foundation.

When the waterworks are completed the plumbers will have plenty to do putting in house pipes.

Drs. Bruebach and Dinnen attended the ladies injured by the blowing down of the laundry yesterday.

The next grand torch light procession will probably occur when Senators Jones and McDonald speak in this city.

A Democratic meeting will be held at Huntertown to-morrow (Saturday) evening, commencing at half past seven o'clock.

If the enumerators don't get their money soon they'll organize themselves into a vigilance committee and procure blood.

A broken down lumber wagon occupied the middle of Calhoun street near Lewis last night to the imminent danger of passing vehicles.

The falling of a shade tree on Baker street during the storm yesterday demolished all the windows in the front part of a residence against which it fell.

The enumerators met at the Robinson House yesterday. Discrepancies in the enumeration were found in all the wards with the exception of the 6th, 7th and 9th.

The Olympic will be illuminated to-night for the first time since it has been remodeled. A full description of this beautiful theatre will shortly be presented to the SENTINEL's readers.

At the corner of Jefferson and Calhoun streets their buggy collided with a farmer's wagon and a wheel wrenching from the former.

Gideon Smith, the well known proprietor of the Tremont House, died last night at 8 o'clock, after a protracted illness. Mr. Smith during his life was an enterprising, energetic citizen, and by his death business circles in this city are shorn of one of their most active members. The time of the funeral has not yet been decided upon.

Senator Jones, of Florida, and Senator McDonald, of this State, will speak in this city soon, but the exact date is not at present known. Senator Jones was Chairman of the Senate Committee on Public Buildings which reported favorably upon the erection of a government building in this city and he should be cordially received by our citizens.

Ready for an Emergency.

About 9 o'clock last evening a bright light was observed to shoot athwart the heavens and apparently caused by a fire in the southwestern portion of the city. With their characteristic vigilance the members of the fire department at once hooked their horses to the steamers and made everything in readiness in anticipation of their services being called into requisition, yet fortunately no alarm was sent in. The light was evidently caused by the burning of property of some description, although the fire was subsequently thought to have been beyond the city limits. Fort Wayne has one of the most vigilant fire departments in the country.

LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

A Ringing Speech by Governor Brockmeyer.

Despite the drenching rain and the terrific warring of the elements generally, a little band of faithful and patriotic Democrats promptly appeared at the circuit court room at eight o'clock last evening to listen to the issues of the hour as they were to be presented by Governor Brockmeyer, of Missouri, who has been spending several days in our midst. Those who braved the evening's storm were amply repaid therefor for Mr. Brockmeyer made a ringing and eloquent speech—an effort that was most favorably received by all his auditors and was frequently applauded to the echo. The speaker was introduced by Hon. J. D. Sarnighausen in a few remarks in both English and German to the effect that the distinguished gentleman would discuss the issues and questions of the present political contest. Mr. Brockmeyer at once took as the basis for his remarks the difference between the principles of the Democratic and the Republican parties and proceeded at length to maintain the position that the Democratic party from the dawn of progress to the present hour was the party of the people, by the people and for the people in an argument of marked solidity, founded exclusively on facts and apparently impregnable against successful assault, let the assault come from whatever quarter it might. The nefarious practices of the Republican party from the day of its birth to the present hour, the venality, corruption and debauchery which have ever followed in its wake, the infamous stamp act of which it was the creator, the unworthy packing of the supreme court of the United States for bold and bad partisan purposes in direct violation of the spirit and letter of the organic law of the land, and the greatest of all crimes in the history of American politics—the deliberate theft of the Presidency and Vice-Presidency—were vividly and forcibly portrayed in all their ghastly hideousness and with a sacred regard for the truth of history. The speaker grew grandly eloquent when he said that for a party which went on from bad to worse, deliberately defying both Almighty God and man, there was a terrible reckoning in store; the vengeance of an outraged God was sure to come sooner or later. In General Garfield, said the speaker, the Republican party had a candidate for the Presidency who is a typical representative of all its purposes and practices. As a member of Congress Garfield was ever to be found at his post voting and laboring for the promotion of every infamous measure proposed by his party. As counsel in the matter of the impeachment of the patriotic Andrew Johnson, as a "visiting statesman" to Louisiana to manipulate the vote of that State and to thwart the voice of the people as expressed by their ballots, and subsequently as a member of the infamous majority of the electoral commission he did the bidding of his party managers and obeyed their dictum apparently without the least scruple of conscience. Mr. Brockmeyer closed his able address with a brilliant peroration which was remarkable both for the elegance of its language and the eloquent earnestness of the speaker. It had special reference to the military record of General Hancock and his unquestioned abilities as a statesman which were clearly demonstrated by the wise, humane and patriotic policy he pursued when at the close of the war he sheathed his trusted blade and was made the acting Governor of the State of Louisiana. Every mention of General Hancock's name was the signal for great applause. For over an hour the speaker held the closest attention, and at the conclusion of his remarks all present felt that it was good for them to be there.

Mr. Brockmeyer was followed by Hon. John D. Sarnighausen who addressed the assemblage in German. The SENTINEL's representative was unable to understand the tenor of the gentleman's remarks, yet from the manner in which they were received, the unbounded enthusiasm they created and the hearty applause which they called forth, we were forced to the conviction that Mr. Sarnighausen was saying something that was decidedly good and pertinent to the occasion, and we felt regret that we had not been born a German.

FAIR HOUSE.

FOREPAUGH.

Head what the Chicago papers proclaim of the great Forepaugh show, to be in Fort Wayne, Monday, Aug. 23:

From the Chicago Inter-Ocean. The highest compliment we can pay to Forepaugh's great show, is to say its advertisements are too modest—they do not half describe its magnitude and merit—when we consider the exaggerative style of advertising adopted by traveling exhibitions, what higher compliment can be bestowed upon Manager Forepaugh and his great aggregation. We cheerfully commend it to the patronage of our readers.

From the Chicago Times. There is no rival to the present great show traveling under the able administration of the veteran, Adam Forepaugh. The menagerie is of unusual extent and excellence. The museum and circus departments are faultless, past criticism; not a coarse jest nor a discourteous act was apparent throughout the entire performance, and it can safely be visited by respectable people.

From the Chicago Tribune. Without question, Adam Forepaugh's Great Show is the finest and largest in the world.

FINE FURNITURE.

A Business House That Does a Tremendous Trade.

Among the many prosperous and enterprising business houses of Fort Wayne that stand deservedly high in the estimation of the people is the fine furniture emporium at Nos. 33 and 35 Clinton street, under the management of Mr. F. Flegner. This morning we took a stroll through the establishment and were surprised to note the large, varied and elegant stock of furniture that is housed therein. There were to be seen an endless variety of rich parlor suits which range in price from $44 to $150; easy and comfortable chairs of every description, rockers of the most approved style and pattern, durable lounges most tastily finished together with improved bed lounges that must be carefully scrutinized to be fully appreciated. In addition Flegner has a full line of every description of furniture that it is not necessary to call special attention to in this connection. He is a liberal merchant and his aim is to transact business as to make it to the interest of all classes to purchase at his establishment. His trade is not confined to Indiana alone as he is constantly shipping furniture by the car load to several of the States of the Union. We were shown orders that had been received from Pittsburgh and other eastern cities that were simply immense in their proportions, and as these orders so quickly follow each other it is safe to assume that the furniture sold by this house gives the utmost satisfaction to all purchasers. It is a first-class establishment and persons in need of furniture can visit Flegner's store confident in the belief that they will be liberally and fairly dealt with. Remember the place, 33 and 35 Clinton street.
